Climate In Russia

Russia is a huge country and almost 145 million of people live here. Here people say climate can be different. You can enjoy sun in Sochi, listen to sad music of rain in Saint Petersburg or observe cold winter in Murmansk. Anyway our country is beautiful any period of time.

In general, the climate of Russia can be described as highly continental influenced climate with warm to hot dry summers and cold winters with temperatures of -30° degrees and lower and sometimes heavy snowfall.

If to believe statistics the highest temperature was $+45$ degrees in July. And the lowest temperature was fixed in January -71 degrees. Honestly, we live in normal climate with snowy winter and sunny summer. But the most important thing about this weather is that it really depends on region. Most part of Russia is located in a comfortable zone to live in. But the climate is changing now. Russian frosts in winter were so much popular but now it is not so cruel and cold. As you understand today temperature is not very low in winter. But of course sometimes we may have snowstorms.

Summer can be also different. Normally weather is not very hot. But there are some days with a very high temperature and no rain during few weeks. Or it can be hard rain and hail in summer.
